PROFILE SUMMARY

I am Dr. Rhucha, a Bachelor of Homeopathic Medicine and Surgery graduate currently pursuing an MBA in Healthcare Management at K J Somaiya Institute of Management. I chose this path to bridge my medical expertise with management skills, aiming to contribute to the optimization of healthcare operations and improve patient outcomes. With a background in holistic patient care and experience in wellness initiatives, I am passionate about integrating innovative strategies to address challenges in the healthcare industry while ensuring regulatory compliance and enhancing service delivery. My goal is to make a meaningful impact in healthcare management and operations.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Infectious Diseases Training at Kasturba Hospital 2021

During my BHMS studies, I had the opportunity to attend all lectures on infectious diseases at Kasturba Hospital for Infectious Diseases in 2021. This exposure enhanced my understanding of the diagnosis, prevention, and management of infectious diseases, emphasizing public health and clinical approaches. Learning in a renowned institution allowed me to gain insights from experienced medical professionals, deepening my knowledge of disease outbreaks, patient care, and effective healthcare strategies, all while maintaining a commendable conduct.

Pink Tree Health App SEPTEMBER 2024 - MARCH 2025

During my capstone project at Pink Tree Health App, I am working on a healthcare project where I interact with AIIMS doctors, gaining valuable insights into the target audience and understanding the doctors' perspectives for building a new healthcare app. This experience is enhancing my skills in project management, understanding user needs, and aligning healthcare solutions with practical challenges while emphasizing data confidentiality and ethical practices.

Millennium Money Finance DECEMBER 2024

During my live project at Millennium Money Finance, I gained hands-on experience in financial services, including demat account opening, DuPont analysis, and technical analysis. I also learned about real-world financial management and the nuances of building a strong business profile, which enhanced my practical knowledge and analytical skills in the financial industry.
